Purpose and Direction

A certain company that provides internet service has been running a cute TV ad. It portrays the sales staff having a meeting to remind them of various desirable features of their company's service. The price is good. The service is fast. You can use it on your mobile devices. Then the team leader asks, "What else do people want?" A team member responds in a doubtful tone of voice: "A sense of purpose and direction in life?"

Consciously or unconsciously, people do, indeed, want a sense of purpose and direction in life. Your friendly neighborhood internet company probably isn't the best place to find it!

Secular progressive society and New Age religion urge us to look within ourselves to discover our purpose and determine our direction. "Follow your heart!" Glaringly absent is any reference to God or the Bible.

Human beings need answers to three basic questions: 1) Where did I come from? 2) Why am I here? and 3) Where am I going? Only when the first question is answered correctly can there be solid answers to the second and third questions. If we are merely the end result of a blind process of organic evolution, then looking inward is our only option for finding purpose and direction. But since we are the creation of God, His word tells us our purpose as well as our destiny.

Most people routinely look to unreliable sources for their sense of purpose and direction. Human philosophy, secular "science," and even respected religious leaders give answers that sound good on the surface but fail in the final analysis. Faithful Christians have the assurance that our purpose is to serve God by serving other people under the direction of His word. We also have the privilege and duty to help others learn about their purpose and direction. May God help us to fulfill our purpose diligently!

--Joe Slater (Justin, TX)

We gladly welcome you to our congregation, trusting that – if you are seeking Christ you will find Him here, if sorrowing you will receive comfort and strength here, if troubled in spirit you will gain the blessing of peace here, if discouraged you will rejoice in encouragement and hope here, if friendless you will find companionship and Christian love here. That these and other blessings may be yours is our prayer.

Do Not Forget To Live

Someone wrote, "The tragedy of life is not that it ends so soon, but that we wait so long to begin it."

- First I was dying to finish high school and start college.
- And then I was dying to finish college and start working.
- And then I was dying to marry and have children.
- And then I was dying for my children to grow old enough for school so I could return to work.
- And then I was dying to retire.
- And now, I am dying, and suddenly I realize I forgot to live.

"For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for a little time and then vanishes away." James 4:14

Why not make 2026 the year to devote your life to Christ while you have the time and opportunity before it's too late. - Wayne
