Fulfilling Our Mission

The Lord's church has the same mission that Jesus had: to seek and save the lost (Luke 19:10). Jesus' church does that by preaching the gospel to those who are lost and separated from God due to sin. We also admonish and help mature the saved. That's exactly what Jesus said in Matthew 28:18-20.

The message we take into a lost world is that Jesus died to save us from our sins. It is a simple message, but unfortunately a message that is often rejected by many people. Matt. 7:13-14

Nevertheless, we teach and preach it because it is the message of God (1 Corinthians 15:1-4).

His Face Showed the Strain

by Don Loftis

Before Nehemiah traveled to Palestine to assist in rebuilding the wall around Jerusalem, he served as the "cupbearer" to the Persian king. One morning the king noticed an unusual sadness in his servants face, so he asked, "Why is your face sad though you are not sick? This is nothing but sadness of heart." Nehemiah confessed that he had just heard about the deplorable conditions his fellow Jews were enduring in Jerusalem. The story told in greater detail in Nehemiah 2 offers two important reminders for us.

First, our own experiences affect the way we look, act, and talk. Fatigue and stress deplete our patience. Conflict at work may lead to increased conflict at home. Physical illness can alter our personalities. Often we think we are coping or hiding the issues of our lives, but others may see the changes or even misinterpret the tip of the iceberg they see.

Secondly, as we interact with folks at home, work or church, we need to remember that we have little idea of what is really going on in their lives. Struggles with a teenager, a spouse's medical issue, financial insecurity, or guilt over a past sin may be putting a frown on a normally smiling face. Erroneously, we assume that these changes must be directly or intentionally directed at us.

Christians must learn to practice unconditional love in our interpersonal relationships. According to 1 Corinthians 13, this calls for such things as patience, kindness, courtesy, forgiveness, and endurance. The next time someone passes you without speaking or is curt in their response to your greeting, try to sense their pain and assume the best.

Behind Me

by H. L. Gradowith

I'm gonna lay down all of this life's burdens
And I'm gonna lay down all of this life's cares,
Yes I'm gonna leave them all far behind me
When I reach that Lovely Country over There!

I'm gonna leave all my frowns behind me
And I'm gonna have a heart that never breaks;
The Lord's gonna wipe all the tears from my eyes
Up There in that Lovely Land of no mistakes!

The Lord will give me all I ever need There!
Yes, the Lord will call my name and say, Well done!
I will never want up There for anything!
When, at long last, my Savior welcomes me Home!
