In Loving Memory of

James Horton 1955 - 2017

After a 13 year battle with cancer, James Horton gained the victory when he went home to be with the Lord on Thursday morning. We extend our deepest sympathy to his wife Cathy and to his family which meant the world to him.

James also had many friends. To know him, you would understand why. He was cheerful, outgoing, always greeted you with a big smile. He had a great work ethic and he always stayed busy. After working at Dart for 29 years. He retired as regional safety coordinator. James was a member of the 1973 class of Caverna High School. He obeyed the gospel of Christ about 14 years ago committing his life to Christ after studying the Bible with me. I, like many of you, considered him a great friend. He is now at rest (Rev. 14:13) free from pain and treatments and rejoicing in glory. - Wayne Feeding the Wolf!

by Mike Riley

In 1 Corinthians 9:27, the inspired apostle Paul wrote, "But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway." The Holy Spirit's teaching of "self-control" in the life of the apostle Paul can be further illustrated in the following story:

An old grandfather counseled his grandson who was angry at a friend who had done him an injustice. "Let me tell you a story. I too, at times have felt a great hate for those who have taken so much with no sorrow for what they do; but hate wears you down and does not hurt your enemy. It is like taking a poison and wishing your enemy would die. I have struggled with these feelings many times."

He continued, "It is as if there are two wolves inside me; one is good and does no harm. He lives in harmony with all those around him and does not take offense when no offense was intended. He will only fight when it is right to so, and in the right way. But...the other wolf...ah! The littlest thing will send him into a fit of anger. He fights everyone, all of the time, for no reason. He cannot think because his anger and hate are so great. It is helpless anger, for his anger will change nothing. Sometimes it is hard to live with these two wolves inside me, for both of them try to dominate my spirit."

The boy looked intently into his grandfather's eyes and asked, "Which one wins Grandfather?" The grandfather smiled and quietly said, "The one I feed!"

Conclusion

Brethren, let's make certain that we "feed" (spiritually speaking) the "right" wolf within each of us. We can accomplish this by adhering to the inspired words of the apostle Paul:

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Philippians 4:8).

FAMILY & FRIENDS DAY RECAP

Last Sunday was everything we anticipated it to be. We had a wonderful crowd of 115 for morning worship. Robbie had two great lessons. It was so great to see people we have not seen in a while. It was surely a boost to us, and we thank you for coming to be a part of the day.

After morning worship, we met in the Annex and enjoyed a fantastic meal. We had the largest number ever to eat in the new Annex. We set up a couple of tables downstairs. Some of us went last stood to eat; but we did not care.

It was a joyous occasion, and we give God the honor and glory for blessing us with a wonderful Lord's Day.
