The Christian Tree
By Edd Sterchi

If a Christian were a tree, what should it look like?

- ♦ It would have roots that grow downward. Roots help with strength and stability. Roots also bring nutrients to the tree. Deeply rooted in the Scriptures the Christian can stand strong.
- ♦ It would be healthy inward. A tree must be healthy from the inside out. Spiritual health for the Christian begins with the heart.
- ♦ It would stretch up ever upward. A tree is always growing, stretching its leafy branches toward the sky. The Christian must ever be growing toward and pointing to heaven.
- ♦ It would produce fruit outward. A fruit tree yields much produce. The Christian is to be productive in good works and fruit of the Spirit.

"Blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD, and whose hope is the LORD. For he shall be like a tree planted by the waters, which spreads out its roots by the river, and will not fear when heat comes; but its leaf will be green, and will not be anxious in the year of drought, nor will cease from yielding fruit."
(Jer. 17:7-8)

Calvary or Bethlehem?

Two places played an important part in Jesus’ life. The first was Bethlehem, the place of his birth. (Matt. 1:5-9) The second was Calvary, the place of His death. (Luke 23:33) Of these two, only one has affected mankind for all generations. That one is Calvary.

At Calvary, His birth in Bethlehem found its real meaning. Paul wrote “But made Himself of no reputation, taking the form of a bondservant, and coming in the likeness of men.” (Phil. 2:7NKJV) Because Jesus came in the form of a baby, He entered the world like everyone else. He also died for every man on a cross on Calvary. He bore the sins of many. (Heb. 9:28) Without the events in Bethlehem, Calvary would not have been possible; but with the events of Bethlehem the events of Calvary affected all men of all generations.

At Calvary, the timing of His birth in Bethlehem was realized. Paul wrote about the time when Christ would be born in order to redeem others. In Ga. 4:4, we read, “But when the fullness of the time had come, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the law...” (NKJV) This happened in Bethlehem. Then Paul continues, “...To redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the adoption as sons.” (Ga. 4:5) According to Heb. 9:15, this happened at His death on Calvary.

At Calvary, the good news of Bethlehem became a reality. The angels’ announcement to the shepherds was “I bring you good tidings of great joy which will be to all people. For there is born to you this day in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord.” (Lu. 2:10, 11) The reference to “city of David” is another name for Bethlehem. (1 Sam. 16:18) The good news of universal salvation for all men came to fruition at the death of Christ. Jesus said, “This is my blood of the new covenant which is shed for many for the remission of sins.” (Mt. 26:28)

Had it not been for Bethlehem, Calvary would not have happened; but because of Calvary, we all can rejoice in knowing we have a way to get to heaven one day. By coming in contact with his death on Calvary (Ro.6:3), we can have hope of everlasting life.

If life is a flight through time, who is in the cockpit?

If life is a joyride,
who is behind the wheel?

If life is a voyage,
who is at the helm?

Winners and Losers

by David A. Sargent

Jimmy Valvano is remembered for running up and down the court after winning the 1983 NCAA basketball championship, after his NC State Wolfpack upset the Houston Cougars (including Clyde "the Glide" Drexler and Hakeem "the Dream" Olajuwon). Valvano is also remembered well for some of his speeches.

Valvano was diagnosed with bone cancer in June 1992. In July, he found out that it had metastasized. He died less than a year later on April 28, 1993.

One of Valvano's most memorable motivational speeches was delivered February 21, 1993 at Reynolds Coliseum on NCSU's basketball court during the ten year commemoration of the University's 1983 NCAA championship. It was during this speech that Valvano stressed the importance of hope, love, and persistence and included his famous quotation: "Don't give up, don't ever give up."

Gary Smith once shared another message from Jimmy V: Suffering from terminal spinal cancer at the age of 47, former North Carolina State basketball coach Jim Valvano spoke with a reporter. He looked back on his life and told a story about himself as a 23-year-old coach of a small college team. "Why is winning so important to you?" the players asked Valvano.

"Because the final score defines you," he said, "You lose, ergo, you're a loser. You win, ergo, you're a winner."

"No," the players insisted. "Participation is what matters. Trying your best, regardless of whether you win or lose -- that's what defines you."

It took 24 more years of living. It took the coach bolting up from the mattress three or four times a night with his T-shirt soaked with sweat and his teeth rattling from the fever chill of chemotherapy and the terror of seeing himself die repeatedly in his dreams. It took all that for him to say it: "Those kids were right. It's effort, not result. It's trying... What a great human being I could have been if I'd had this awareness back then." *

If our identity is defined by winning and losing, then we are all losers, "for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). That is true of every human being, no matter how hard we try not to sin.

But God loves us anyway and He desires to save us from our sins (1 Timothy 2:4). He gave His one and only Son to die on the cross for our sins so that we can receive the forgiveness of our sins and the gift of eternal life (John 3:16; Romans 6:23). "But God demonstrates His own love toward us, in that while we were still sinners, Christ died for us" (Romans 5:8).

Jesus won the victory over sin and death. And, if we will submit our lives to Him, we can share in His victory.

God will save, give eternal life, and share the victory with those who place their faith and trust in Jesus (Acts 16:30-31), turn from their sins in repentance (Acts 17:30-31), confess Jesus before men (Romans 10:9-10), and are baptized (immersed) into Christ for the forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38). He will continue to cleanse from sin those who continue to walk in the light of His Word (1 John 1:7-9).

Through Christ we can be victors, not losers – because He won the victory for us! "But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" (1 Corinthians 15:57).

YOU can share in Christ's victory by trusting and obeying Him. Won't YOU?
